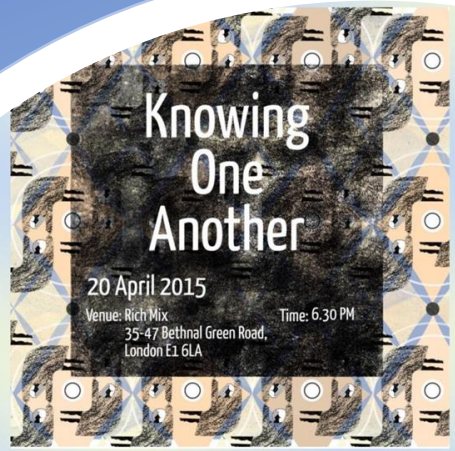
Project Launch

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

Our Focus is East London – culture, race, faith and ethnicity related

- To engage individuals from diverse backgrounds to explore community cohesion issues
- To promote the development of greater levels of mutual understanding and empathy between diverse communities
- To help improve relationship and dependency between individuals, groups and communities



London,
Uyghur music,
Asian Dance

20 April 2015 | Rich Mix Centre | 6.30

Come and join us to pick up your FREE book, and enjoy live music, comedy and vegetarian bites from various parts of the world which has now become part of London.

The book offers a wonderful glimpse of the Eritrean, Thai, Ugandan, East African Indian, Bengali, Pashtun, Moroccan, Uyghur and the East End Jewish communities from London.

EVENT LINE UP:

COMEDY: Patrick Monahan

All welcome, free entry and advance booking only!

To book your free place email faridha@bricklanecircle.org

LOTTERY FUNDED

RICHMIX
www.richmix.org.uk

The First Knowing One Another Project

https://bricklanecircle.org/knowing-one-another-2014-15/

Engaged members of London's diverse communities to discover and learn about the places of origin of each other.

The focus was on the sub-regions of countries to reflect the nature of migration and the specific origin of London's diverse populations

Showing One Another

A Publication by the Brick Lane Circle

The Second Knowing One Another Through the Arts of Drama Project

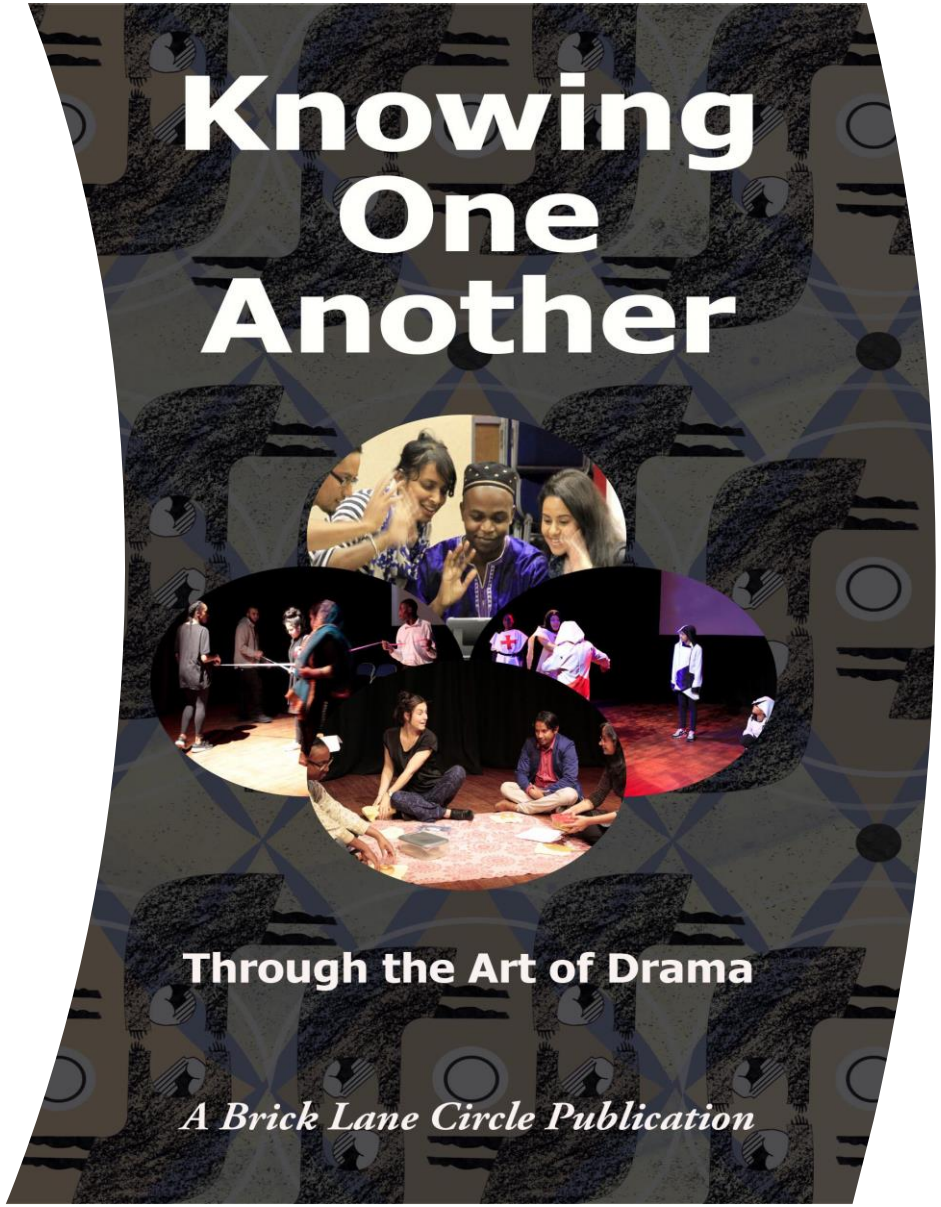
https://bricklanecircle.org/knowing-one-another-through-the-arts-of-drama-2/



Engaged members of diverse community through drama to explore their experiences.

The themes covered were Multi-generational, Multi-cultural, Multi-faith and Multi-routes into Britain

They developed scenarios, produced scripts, rehearsed and delivered public performances

Public Performances Brady Arts Centre

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

An exciting new project by Brick Lane Circle

Do you want to apply high level critical thinking
to smash racial and cultural prejudice?
If yes, then come to the

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Zoom Project Launch

Thursday 8 April, 6.00-8.00 pm

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Presentations on the project

The project will recruit and engage diverse community participants and provide them with training on the basics of philosophy. The participants will then apply critical thinking in a systematic, step by step manner, to dissect and analyse local community cohesion issues.

Training workshops
Tuesday evenings
1 June - 13 July 2021, 7.00-9.00 pm

Logic by Dr Gabriel Apata
Eastern Philosophy by Dr. Radha D'Souza
Epistemology by Dr Gabriel Apata
De-colonial perspectives by Mama D. Ujuaje
Space/architectural by John Bell
Political Philosophy by Dr Halima Begum
Ethics by Dr Aminul Hoque

Each participant will explore a particular factor responsible for causing community cohesion problems - such as xenophobia, multi-culturalism, religious extremism, white nationalism, racism, parallel lives, stereotyping, fake news and othering - and apply philosophy to dissect and analyse the matter systematically and share the outcomes of their enquiries.

Stand-up Comedy

In partnership with Mixt Nutz

Performers

Sajeela Kershi (MC)
Naveed Mahbub
Brian Damage & Krysstal
Yuriko Kotani
Patrick Monahan

For further details please email bricklanecircle@yahoo.co.uk
Links to join the project launch presentation and stand-up comedy will be sent a few days before the event. Kindly book your place at eventbrite.
https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/knowing-one-another-through-philosophy-tickets-148262702735

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

It aims to utilise philosophy to critically explore community cohesion issues

Focusing on race, culture, ethnicity and faith

Basic workshops on philosophy

Participants choose a real-life practical community cohesion issue:

Undertake research to better understand the context and

Apply any branch philosophy to get to the bottom of the issue

Produce a written piece

TRAINING WORKSHOPS

Tuesdays, 7.00-9.00 pm

Logic
1 June 2021
Dr Gabriel Apata

Eastern Philosophy
8 June 2021
Dr. Radha D'Souza

Epistemology
15 June 2021
Dr Gabriel Apata

De-colonial perspectives
22 June 2021
Mama D. Ujuaje

Space/architectural
29 June 2021
John Bell

Political Philosophy
6 July 2021
Dr Halima Begum

Ethics
13 July 2021
Dr Aminul Hoque

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

An exciting new project by Brick Lane Circle

Do you want to apply high level critical thinking
to smash racial and cultural prejudice?
If yes, then come to the

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Zoom Project Launch

Thursday 8 April, 6.00-8.00 pm

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Presentations on the project

The project will recruit and engage diverse community participants and provide them with training on the basics of philosophy. The participants will then apply critical thinking in a systematic, step by step manner, to dissect and analyse local community cohesion issues.

Training workshops
Tuesday evenings
1 June - 13 July 2021, 7.00-9.00 pm

Logic by Dr Gabriel Apata
Eastern Philosophy by Dr. Radha D'Souza
Epistemology by Dr Gabriel Apata
De-colonial perspectives by Mama D. Ujuaje
Space/architectural by John Bell
Political Philosophy by Dr Halima Begum
Ethics by Dr Aminul Hoque

Each participant will explore a particular factor responsible for causing community cohesion problems - such as xenophobia, multi-culturalism, religious extremism, white nationalism, racism, parallel lives, stereotyping, fake news and othering - and apply philosophy to dissect and analyse the matter systematically and share the outcomes of their enquiries.

Stand-up Comedy

In partnership with Mixt Nutz

Performers

Sajeela Kershi (MC)
Naveed Mahbub
Brian Damage & Krysstal
Yuriko Kotani
Patrick Monahan

For further details please email bricklanecircle@yahoo.co.uk
Links to join the project launch presentation and stand-up comedy will be sent a few days before the event. Kindly book your place at eventbrite.
https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/knowing-one-another-through-philosophy-tickets-148262702735

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

RECENT POLITICS RELATED PREJUDICES

Anti-European
Brexit debates
Anti-Chinese
Western politicians trying to take advantage of Covid-19

INTERSECTIONAL PREJUDICE

Anti-Muslim prejudice – based perception of how we treat women

INTERCOMMUNITY PREJUDICE

Prejudices between Hindus and Muslims - based on history and subcontinental politics

Examples of factors causing community cohesion issues

- Xenophobia
- Multi-culturalism
- Religious extremism
- White nationalism
- Parallel lives
- Racism
- Stereotyping
- Othering
- Fake news

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

An exciting new project by Brick Lane Circle

Do you want to apply high level critical thinking
to smash racial and cultural prejudice?
If yes, then come to the

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Zoom Project Launch

Thursday 8 April, 6.00-8.00 pm

From a previous Knowing One Another project

Presentations on the project

The project will recruit and engage diverse community participants and provide them with training on the basics of philosophy. The participants will then apply critical thinking in a systematic, step by step manner, to dissect and analyse local community cohesion issues.

Training workshops
Tuesday evenings
1 June - 13 July 2021, 7.00-9.00 pm

Logic by Dr Gabriel Apata
Eastern Philosophy by Dr. Radha D'Souza
Epistemology by Dr Gabriel Apata
De-colonial perspectives by Mama D. Ujuaje
Space/architectural by John Bell
Political Philosophy by Dr Halima Begum
Ethics by Dr Aminul Hoque

Each participant will explore a particular factor responsible for causing community cohesion problems - such as xenophobia, multi-culturalism, religious extremism, white nationalism, racism, parallel lives, stereotyping, fake news and othering - and apply philosophy to dissect and analyse the matter systematically and share the outcomes of their enquiries.

Stand-up Comedy

In partnership with Mixt Nutz

Performers

Sajeela Kershi (MC)
Naveed Mahbub
Brian Damage & Krysstal
Yuriko Kotani
Patrick Monahan

For further details please email bricklanecircle@yahoo.co.uk
Links to join the project launch presentation and stand-up comedy will be sent a few days before the event. Kindly book your place at eventbrite.
https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/knowing-one-another-through-philosophy-tickets-148262702735

Knowing One Another Through Philosophy

OUTCOMES

10-12 written pieces
An Exhibition
A theatrical production

Support
Training
Monthly group meetings
One to one support
Travelling and volunteers' expense

Examples of factors causing community cohesion issues

Xenophobia
Multi-culturalism
Religious extremism
White nationalism
Parallel lives
Racism
Stereotyping
Othering
Fake news

Deadline for application:
Wednesday 19 May 2021

For more details and an application from bricklanecircle@yahoo.co.uk